

Introducing a primitive folk art collection by Whimsicals for Red Rooster Fabrics...

SNOW WONDERSLAND ❄️ ❄️ ❄️ ❄️ ❄️

Whimsicals' new Snow Wonderland collection is a sure cure for mid-winter cabin fever - we can build a snowman! There's a "we can build a snowman" toss and border stripe, winter flowers and leaves, little holly leaves, a tweedy stripe, a geometric, a charming pine bough and berry stripe, and a texture to mix and match in winter and Christmas projects. The wintry grays, browns, rusty reds, and greens are complemented by a nice group of lighter beiges for that essential contrast. Try these prints in traditional and country quilts and add some splashes of appliqué with the red, green, and beige prints.

Check out The Woolen Willow quilt shop in the Fall/Winter issue of Quilt Sampler magazine to see Whimsicals' "Along the Way" medallion-style quilt from their Threads of Harmony pattern book. It features a primitive appliquéd house, several traditional pieced blocks, and eight appliquéd crows. The Snow Wonderland collection could easily be substituted in this pattern. Look for a pattern by Whimsicals that you can kit, designed especially for the new collection, when the fabric ships to quilt shops.
